THE CONSTITUTIONAL WALKING TOUR ANNOUNCES STUDENT WINNERS IN ITS SECOND ANNUAL AMERICAN FREEDOM ESSAY CONTEST IN HONOR OF CONSTITUTION DAY & CITIZENSHIP DAY
*Students from Burlington, Hunterdon and Hudson Counties in New Jersey Named Winners

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania – November 24, 2008 – The Constitutional Walking Tour of Philadelphia today announced the student winners of its 2008 American Freedom Essay Contest.

The winner in the Elementary School Category (Grades 1-5) was Samantha Chong from the Theodore Roosevelt School #5 in Weehawken, New Jersey (Hudson County) for her essay “Freedom” (Teacher: Patricia Allegretta).

The winner in the Middle School Category (Grades 6-8) was Duncan Reehl from Holland Township School in Milford, New Jersey (Hunterdon County) for his essay “Basic Freedom, Big Impact” (Teacher: Sandra Ozgar).

The winner in the High School Category (Grades 9-12) was Gia Montemuro from Cinnaminson High School in Cinnaminson, New Jersey (Burlington County) for her essay “Freedom Is...” (Teacher: Daniel Matz). This marks the second consecutive year that Cinnaminson High School has won first place in the High School category!

The American Freedom Essay Contest received many wonderful essays from students attending public and private schools, as well as those being home schooled, all along the East Coast of the United States. In total, there were approximately 1,400 essays received from more than 90 schools which participated in this Constitution Day essay contest. Schools from the following states participated: Alaska, Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Washington, D.C. The winning essays will be posted online at www.theconstitutional.com/essay.

“We were overwhelmed with the response to our second annual American Freedom Essay Contest,” stated Jonathan Bari, President of The Constitutional Walking Tour. “We salute all of the students and educators who participated in the contest on a job well done with the high caliber of essays that we received.”

Essay topics represented a broad spectrum of ideas and different points of view on various subjects including freedom of speech, freedom to vote, freedom of assembly, freedom of religion, freedom of the press, the right to petition the government, the right to bear arms, the right to pursue one’s happiness, etc.

American Freedom Essay Contest

September 17th is designated as Constitution Day because on that date in 1787, the delegates of the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia signed the United States Constitution at Independence Hall. Each year, The Constitutional Walking Tour celebrates Constitution Day and Citizenship Day throughout the month of September, and teachers are encouraged to utilize The Constitutional's many free educational resources available at:

www.TheConstitutional.com/1787 .

For the second year, in honor of Constitution Day, The Constitutional Walking Tour asked students to give their views about American freedom. The American Freedom Essay Contest challenged educators to get their students to write a 100-300 word essay on the importance of freedom in their lives. Entries were judged in Elementary School, Middle School and High School categories with the winner in each category earning a free field trip of Historic Philadelphia with The Constitutional Walking Tour for his/her class.<sup>1</sup> For more details on The Constitutional's field trips, visit www.TheConstitutional.com/schools.

The American Freedom Essay Contest is an annual event. To sign up to receive an email when the details of the 2009 contest is announced, visit www.TheConstitutional.com/schools and sign up for The Constitutional Walking Tour’s Educator mailing list.

Background on Constitution Day

In late 2004, Senator Robert Byrd, one of the United States Senate’s leading Constitutional scholars, introduced legislation that President George W. Bush signed into law on December 8, 2004 requiring that all schools, colleges and Federal agencies receiving Federal funds offer
