Philly is best seen by foot, and as such, The Constitutional Walking Tour is the best way to experience America's Birthplace! See more than 20 of Historic Philadelphia's top sites on a 75 minute outdoor walking adventure through Independence National Historical Park including the Liberty Bell, Independence Hall, Declaration House, and Betsy Ross House. Come see why the Chicago Tribune has stated, "No visit to Philadelphia is complete without taking a Constitutional Guided Walking Tour, a 75-minute, mile and a quarter stroll that puts 15 historic sites... and Ben Franklin, in perspective."

The Constitutional's Philadelphia sightseeing tours serve all types of groups ranging from meetings and conventions to school field trips and camps to family reunions, boy scouts, girl scouts, religious youth groups, clubs, special events and more. We provide turnkey resources, such as "Suggested itineraries", as well as various educator resources including a Teacher Resource Guide and annual Teacher Appreciation Days.

Our tour guides are passionate historians and Philadelphians who hail from top academic institutions. They have been trained in our "Independence Immersion"™ curriculum focusing on Philadelphia's history, tourist attractions, and sharing of best practices in terms of customer service, public speaking and storytelling. Our guides bring Philadelphia's history alive.

We also offer Historic Philadelphia Scavenger Hunts, which are a great team building activity and fun way for group participants to get to better know each other. We provide a list of fun clues related to the sites in and around Historic Philadelphia/Old City. Teams have approximately 75 minutes to find the answer to the clues and then rejoin their trained History Hunter again at the end to learn the results. Plus, we provide cool prizes for the winning team!
